About this Guide

This guide provides a summary of expenditure for the Elections and Boundaries Commission (EBC) for the period 2016-2022. It provides Members of Parliament and stakeholders with an overview of the Commission’s responsibilities. The primary purpose of this guide is to consolidate the information contained within the various Budget Documents pertaining to the Elections and Boundaries Commission (EBC) and provide readers with an analysis of same. This guide is based primarily on:

- the Draft Estimates of Development Programme 2022; and
- the Auditor General’s Report on the Public Accounts of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago for the fiscal year 2020.
Head 08: Elections and Boundaries Commission

Role and Function

The EBC is responsible for "registration of voters and the conduct of elections in every constituency", and "Procedure for review of constituency boundaries." The process of registration is voluntary, personal and permanent and no one is under any legal obligation to register. The system is described as permanent, in that once a registration is completed it remains on the records of the Commission unless circumstances arise warranting its cancellation. The Elections and Boundaries Commission is the successor institution of two separate bodies:

- a Boundaries Commission; and
- an Elections Commission.

These were amalgamated in the Republican Constitution\(^1\) enacted in 1976.

Part IV of Chapter 4 of this Constitution provides inter alia for the establishment of the Commission, its membership, specific responsibility for “registration of voters and the conduct of elections in every constituency”, and “Procedure for review of constituency boundaries.” Part V provides for the System of Balloting and also refers to the Second Schedule of the Constitution in which the Rules are set out for the delimitation of constituency boundaries.\(^2\)

Four pieces of legislation provide the Elections and Boundaries Commission with its legal and constitutional authority to conduct elections. They are:

- the Representation of the People Act Chap. 2:01 of the laws of Trinidad and Tobago
- the Elections and Boundaries Commission (Local Government) Act, Chap. 25:50
- the Municipal Corporations Act, 1990
- the Elections and Boundaries Commission (Local Government and Tobago House of Assembly Act No. 40 of 1996

1 Constitution of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago http://rgd.legalaffairs.gov.tt/laws2/alphabetical_list/lawspdfs/1.01.pdf

Mission
To register individuals, conduct elections and review constituency boundaries with integrity, courtesy and transparency in accordance with the law.

Vision
To be a world class Electoral Management Body.

Structure of the Commission
According to the Constitution, the Commission in the exercise of its functions as an independent body shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority. Likewise, it also has within its remit constitutional responsibility for reviewing the number and boundaries of the electoral districts into which Trinidad and Tobago is divided for the purpose of elections and for the submission of these reports to the relevant authorities.

The members of the Commission comprise a Chairman and not less than two or more than four Commissioners who are appointed by the President of the Republic after consultation with the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition. These appointments are for five years in the first instance but under the Constitution, the appointees are eligible for reappointment. The current membership of the Elections and Boundaries Commission comprises:

Chairman
- Mr. Mark Ramkerrysingh

Commissioners
- Mrs. Danielle F. Chow
- Mrs. Roslyn Khan Cummings
- Ms. Gillian Macintyre
- Dr. Wendell C. Wallace

Officer of the Commission

Responsible for setting its own agenda, the Commission gives policy directions to the staff headed by a Chief Election Officer. Some members of staff are appointed by the Public Service Commission (PSC), but the Commission is authorized to recruit on a short-term basis, other persons to perform functions that are largely related to registration of electors, administrative preparations for the conduct of elections and field operations throughout Trinidad and Tobago. Some members of staff are employed on contract. Officers of the Commission include:

Chief Election Officer – Mrs. Fern Narcis-Scope
Deputy Chief Election Officer – Ms. Lena Sahadeo
Assistant Chief Election Officer – Ms. Pamela Ogiste (Ag.)

The structure of the Elections and Boundaries Commission is based principally on a Central Electoral Office located at headquarters in Port of Spain, Fourteen (14) Registration Area Offices and four (4) sub-Offices. These offices are conveniently located throughout the country where persons can register to obtain their National Identification Cards and have their names included on the list of eligible electors subject to certain qualifying criteria.
