THE CONSTITUTION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2007

Explanatory Note

(These notes form no part of the Bill but are intended only to indicate its general purport)

The main purpose of the Bill is to amend the Constitution to effect certain consequential amendments in relation to the Police Service and the Police Service Commission. The Bill requires a special majority vote.

Clause 1 provides the short title of the Act, for which this is the Bill.

Clause 2 provides the commencement provision.

Clause 3 provides that this Bill would amend the Constitution.

Clause 4 seeks to amend section 122A of the Constitution to define the type of criminal offences, and the nature of the reports mentioned under this section.

Clause 5 seeks to amend section 123 to give the Police Service Commission the power to hear appeals in relation to matters concerning promotion, to specify that the report of the Commissioner of Police to the Commission would be in writing, to give the Commission the power to call for certain documents from the Commissioner, and to clarify the grounds of removal.

Clause 6 seeks to amend section 136 to exempt the Police Service Commission from the application of certain subsections of section 136.
